

was the case with the design of uniting the Port Arthur and Vladivostok squadrons, which was notified to the Japanese in ample time for them to adopt counter measures.

The action of Prince Okhtomsky in returning to Port Arthur is described by Captain Klado as incomprehensible in view of the slight nature of the damage received by the Russian ships.

Captain Klado is of the opinion that if the Japanese obtain possession of Port Arthur it will be impossible for Russia to dislodge them without the help of a powerful fleet. They will also be able to hold Korea so long as they are supreme at sea.

Hence all the Russian dockyards ought to work day and night to reconstruct the navy and the Black Sea fleet ought to be sent to the Far East, Turkey, according to Captain Klado, certainly would not demur to the Black Sea fleet passing the Dardanelles and neither would Great Britain if she got political compensation.

LEGAL WAR BETWEEN TRUST AND INDEPENDENTS

Appeal to Treasury Department on Stamp Imposed Upon Imported Cuban Cigars.

A hearing was held at the Treasury Department this morning in which the American Tobacco Company, otherwise known as the tobacco trust, and the independent cigar manufacturers were arrayed against each other.

Incidentally, spice was added to the proceedings by the fact that two of the Assistant Secretaries of the Treasury, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Armstrong, occupied opposing positions on the questions involved.

The independents claimed that the stamp put upon every box of imported cigars, showing that it was imported, acts as a discrimination against the sale of domestic cigars, without the help of which they are believed to be a badge of superiority.

The tobacco trust, which imports practically all Cuban cigars, protested against this ground that it would deprive the purchasers and lead to fraud. On Secretary Taylor's return he suspended Mr. Armstrong's order and called for a hearing of both sides today.

FALLS FROM STEEPLE AND BREAKS LEFT LEG

Workingman Clinging to Ladder Precipitated 100 Feet Through the Air to Pavement.

Falling to the ground from the top of the steeple of the Lutheran Memorial Church, Vermont Avenue and M Street northwest, a distance of 100 feet, James Lane was found to be suffering from injuries to his leg and a few bruises and cuts about his face. He was removed to the Emergency Hospital, and there seems to be no doubt of his recovery.

Together with several other workmen, Lane, who is forty-two years old and lives at 522 Tennessee Avenue, northeast, was working on the new steeple being built on the edifice in place of the one which was burned in the fire last spring. He was perched on a ladder high up in the air, when it suddenly became overbalanced, and Lane fell backward, clutching at the side of the ladder like a drowning man to a rope.

Down he plunged as the other workmen stopped and looked on with horror, pity and amazement. He stood as though riveted to the pavement. Landing on the ground with the ladder nearby, he began to groan and workmen hurried to his side. He was bleeding from cuts about the face and left hand.

Physicians at the Emergency Hospital made an examination and ascertained that the femur of his left leg had been fractured and the man's body was in a highly nervous and excited state, and after his injuries were begun to heal, he was placed in a ward in the institution.

FEAST OF BOOTHS KEPT BY WASHINGTON JEWS

Special Services Mark Closing Ceremonies of Jewish New Year.

Five Half Holidays.

Impressive ceremonies marked the Jewish celebration last night of the Feast of the Booths. The feast is one of the events of the new year holiday season, and will continue through today and tomorrow. It will be followed by five half-holidays, when the festivities in connection with the celebration of the new year will be concluded with two more feasts.

Services in accordance with the ritual of the denomination were held at the Eighth Street Temple at 7:30 o'clock. The ceremonies were under the supervision of Dr. Louis Stern and Dr. Abram Simon. They conducted the services from beneath a booth of lattice work covered with leaves and pendant fruit, while at their feet were spread baskets of fruit, vegetables, and grains of the harvest season. These articles formed the subject of the sermons.

The services were concluded with a recessional around the temple in which 100 children took part. Forming in the rear of the buildings the children marched past the booth, while the symbol of the different vegetable matter was explained to them.

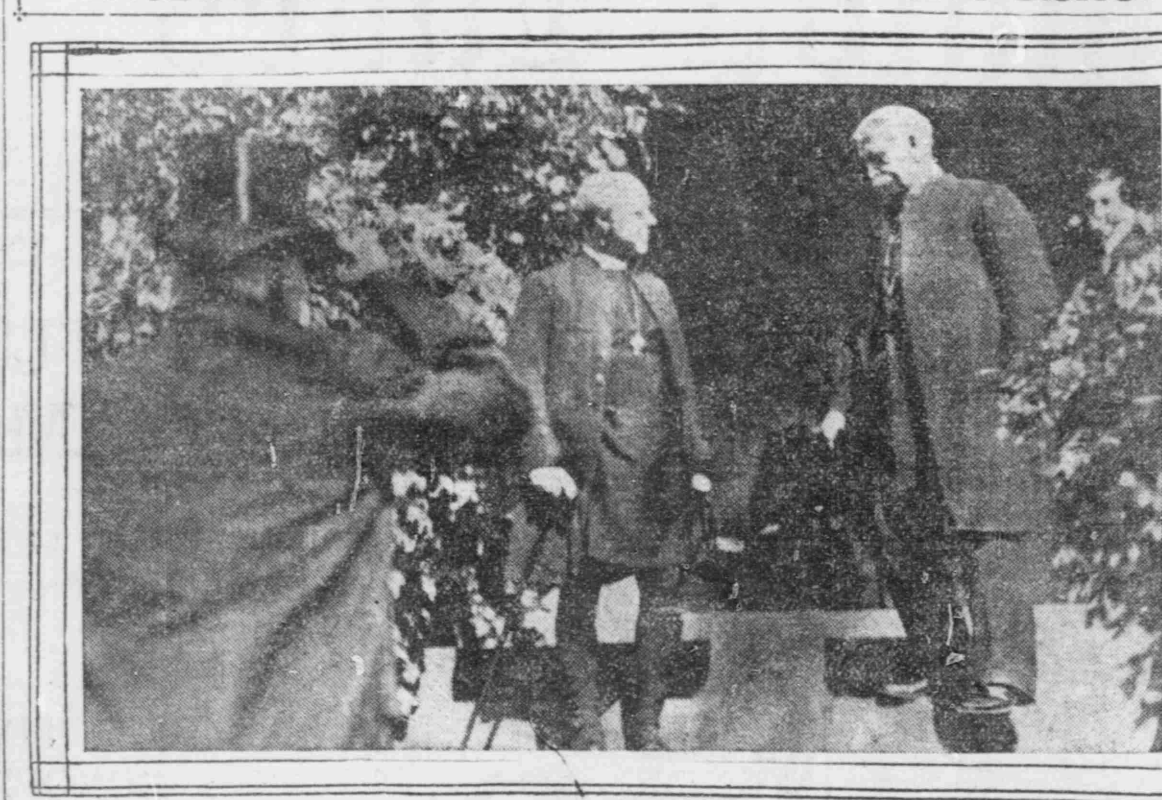

Adath Israel Jewish Congregation, at Sixth and G Streets northwest, celebrated the feast in a similar manner. The services began at sundown and were more orthodox than those at the Eighth Street Temple. Rabbi Julius T. Loeb will preach on "Succah" at the forenoon service today.

The fruits, grains, and vegetables used in the ceremony, and a light will be distributed among the hospitals and charitable institutions today.
